I know there is not much chance that many PCC members will care to participate in any of these upcoming SCCA sanctioned events in our area, but as an active member in both PCC and SCCA-SDR I thought I would pass this on anyway.

I have not been able to drum up much interest in our recent road rally events, and SCCA autocross is a bit too competitive for most PCC members, but perhaps some of the new folks might want to take a look and come on out, and maybe some of you might even take a fun run over to Lake Elsinore to spectate our autocross events this fall. The next one September 11 & 12. Saturday is practice and Sunday is the Championship event. SCCA autocross is fun to watch and highly competitive. Our San Diego Region has at least 8 national champion autocross drivers. We do encourage first timers and it's a lot of fun without the risk track days can impose. So here is what is happening:

In addition to the upcoming Autocross event on September 11 & 12, we have 3 more Autocross events and a Chuckwalla Time Attack track day scheduled for this fall. There will also be another Road Rally in November and maybe one in December too but they are not posted yet. All information is available on <http://www.Motorsportreg.com>. The November rally is a reprise of our first rally held last year (at the peak of Covid) called "It's a Pie Run". Beautiful route perfect for Corvettes and lots of low speed, on street fun for all.

Since we have close to zero participation in any competitive events through PCC of late (carts don't count), none of these will be club events unless the interest level increases, but there sure is a lot of fun to be had regardless.

BTW our rallies have a Corvettes class, in which I have won the last two events, mostly due to lack of competition :-).
